

SUPPORT AT HOME

Inclusions & exclusions guide

What your Support at Home funding can – and can't – be used for.

✓ What's included

Support at Home funding is broad. It's designed to help you stay healthy, connected and independent in your own home. Here's what it can cover:

1. Personal care

Help with bathing, showering, dressing, grooming, continence and getting around safely.

2. Everyday living

Cleaning, laundry, gardening and meal preparation, plus transport to shops, medical appointments and social outings.

3. Clinical care

Nursing for wound care, medication management and other clinical needs, and allied health such as physiotherapy, occupational therapy, speech pathology and podiatry.

4. Social support

Social activities and community connection that reduce loneliness and support your mental wellbeing.

5. Care management

A care plan built around your goals and preferences, with services coordinated and your budget kept on track.

6. Assistive technology & home modifications

Equipment such as walking frames and shower chairs, and changes to your home, funded separately through the AT-HM Scheme.

✗ What's not included

Some costs sit outside the program so that funding stays focused on your care and support:

1. Accommodation

Rent or mortgage payments.

2. General living expenses

Groceries, clothing, utility bills, pet care and professional cleaning services.

3. Medicare-covered health services

GP visits, medical tests and hospital treatment.

4. Medication

Prescription and over-the-counter medicines, generally covered by the PBS.

5. Other insurances

Health, home or car insurance costs.

6. Gambling & entertainment

Gambling, or purely recreational items such as holidays.

$ Support at Home funding levels

There are eight Support at Home classifications, each matched to a different level of care need. People who were already on a Home Care Package (HCP) keep their level as a transitioned classification.

Transitioned HCP levels

HCP level	Quarterly budget	Annual amount

Not sure if something is covered?

Ask yourself these three questions, then talk to us before you book:

- Does it support a goal in my care plan?
- Is it already covered by Medicare, the PBS or another scheme?
- Is it an everyday living cost I'd pay anyway?

Choice and flexibility

Support at Home puts you in the driver's seat. You can shape your plan around your own needs and preferences – within the rules of the program. Depending on your circumstances, you may also be asked to contribute towards the cost of some services.

For detailed rules and scenarios, refer to the Support at Home Program Manual, which sets out the inclusions, exclusions and provider responsibilities.
